Frequent marijuana use, in both youth (ages 12 to 17) and young adults (ages 18 to 25), appears to be associated with opioid use, heavy alcohol use, and major depressive episodes.