

SAMHSA Tribal Affairs Overview

SAMHSA OVERVIEW

Leadership: Kana Enomoto, Acting Deputy Assistant Secretary for Mental Health and Substance Use

Website: <http://www.samhsa.gov/>

Mission: To reduce the impact of substance abuse and mental illness on America's communities.

Organization: SAMHSA is the agency within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) that leads public health efforts to advance the behavioral health of the nation. SAMHSA's behavioral health work for American Indians and Alaska Natives is achieved through the Office of Tribal Affairs and Policy, four Offices, and the following four Centers:

- ✚ Center for Behavioral Health Statistics and Quality (CBHSQ)
- ✚ Center for Mental Health Services (CMHS)
- ✚ Center for Substance Abuse Prevention (CSAP)
- ✚ Center for Substance Abuse Treatment (CSAT)

Information on SAMHSA Offices and Centers can be obtained at <http://www.samhsa.gov/about-us/who-we-are/offices-centers>.

Office of Tribal Affairs and Policy (OTAP): is organizationally housed within the Office of Planning, Policy, and Innovation (OPPI) and serves as SAMHSA's primary point of contact for tribal governments, tribal organizations, federal departments and agencies, and other governments and agencies on behavioral health issues facing American Indians and Alaska Natives. OTAP brings together SAMHSA's tribal affairs, tribal policy, tribal consultation, tribal advisory, and Tribal Law and Order Act responsibilities to improve agency coordination and meaningful progress.

SAMHSA's Tribal Affairs, Policy, and Technical Assistance Resources

SAMHSA provides training and technical assistance to tribes, such as help with prevention program planning and Tribal Action Plan development.

Tribal Consultation: SAMHSA considers consultation an enhanced form of communication which emphasizes trust, respect, and shared responsibility. Consultation is an open and free exchange of information and opinion among parties which leads to mutual understanding and comprehension, the purpose of which is reaching consensus to the greatest extent possible. A copy of the most current consultation policy is available at SAMHSA-specific Tribal Consultation Policy \(TCP\) — 2016 \(PDF | 275 KB\) and feedback on consultation topics may be provided through the following e-mail address: tribalconsultation@samhsa.hhs.gov.

SAMHSA Tribal Technical Advisory Committee (TTAC): The SAMHSA TTAC was established in 2008. The TTAC meets with senior leadership no less than twice per year to provide advice on AI/AN behavioral health concerns and workable solutions. The TTAC roster is available at <http://www.samhsa.gov/about-us/advisory-councils/tribal-technical-advisory-committee-ttac/council-roster>.

Tribal Law and Order Act (TLOA): amended the Indian Alcohol and Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act of 1986 and requires SAMHSA's Office of Indian Alcohol and Substance Abuse to work with other federal agencies and offices to ensure a coordinated federal effort to address substance use concerns among American Indian and Alaska Native people. TLOA promotes the development of comprehensive tribal action plans. To learn more about TLOA please visit: <http://www.samhsa.gov/tloa>.

SAMHSA Tribal Training and Technical Assistance (TTA) Center: uses a culturally relevant, evidence-based, holistic approach to support Native communities in their self-determination efforts through infrastructure development and capacity building, program planning, and implementation. It provides training and technical assistance on mental and/or substance use disorders, suicide prevention, and mental health promotion. Additional information is available at: <http://www.samhsa.gov/tribal-ttac>.
